

Kerrin P. Sharpe

leaving the estuary

the air is crazy
with godwits

a fish on wheels
writes a folk song

the chorus penguin
street tern street heron

street sung by tides
small embassies of coins

wait to return
to their own countries

you crouch at the bottom of the well and count them